Your Want Ad FREE if You Want Employment

It is The West Virginian's desire to bring those who now are unemployed into touch with many employers who can at this time give them work to do. The quickest way to gain that end is through our Classified Columns. With the thought that we may help many who are out of work we will gladly insert in our columns Want Ads under the "Situation Wanted" heading without charge. Write your Want Ad on the blank in the lower corner of this page and either bring it or mail it to The West Virginian classified department. We'll do the rest.

PERHAPS you will not find exactly the position you would like best—perhaps the same sort of work you have been doing is not available at this time. Yet, it is likely that there is something for you in the community if only you knew about it or if the employer who could use you knew something about your qualifications. We hope that is the case. But there's no reason to pass up this chance of finding employment so we trust you will take advantage of this invitation to use The West Virginian Classified Columns. Others find it pays.

How to write your Want Ad

WANT ADS are "quick messages" and are most successful when they are brief. You know how you boil down the wording of a telegram—a Want Ad can be similarly boiled down, telling the main essentials and, of course, not failing to include your name, address, telephone number or whatever information would help a prospective employer get in touch with you. When you fill out the blank in the corner of this page state the kind of work you are experienced to do and then state where you can be reached. We will print the copy three consecutive days without charge. We would ask only one courtesy—that you stop in and let us know if you find employment as a result of the advertisement.
